Prompt...

| What are you most excited about for the future?

Yeah sure ... again when my parents would come to know about my relationship... Whenever I think about that it makes me more excited and I knew it would be the disaster day of my life... I knew the solution also...i can't handle that situation but I have the solution... He is my excitement part of my life... Mostly I feel normal in mind...not too much happy, not too much sad...but whenever I meet him...that day makes me excitement and worried and also thinking of my last day...mixed with every feeling...❤️
